Final: Outfit Haiku

Abstract
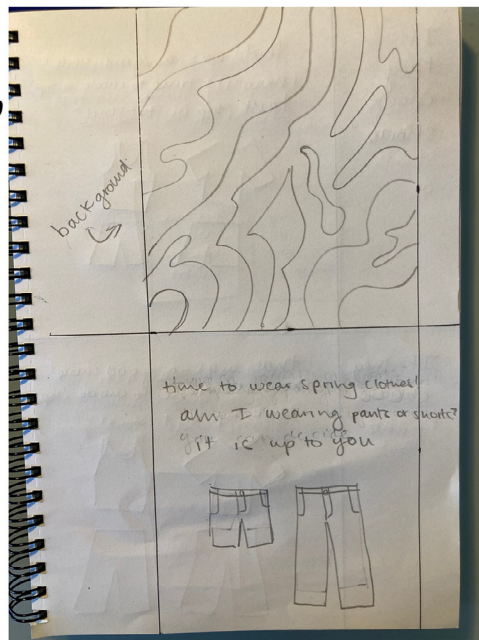

inspiration:
Clueless (1995)

There's an iconic scene in the movie when the main character Cher chooses her outfit by scrolling through her pieces on her computer.
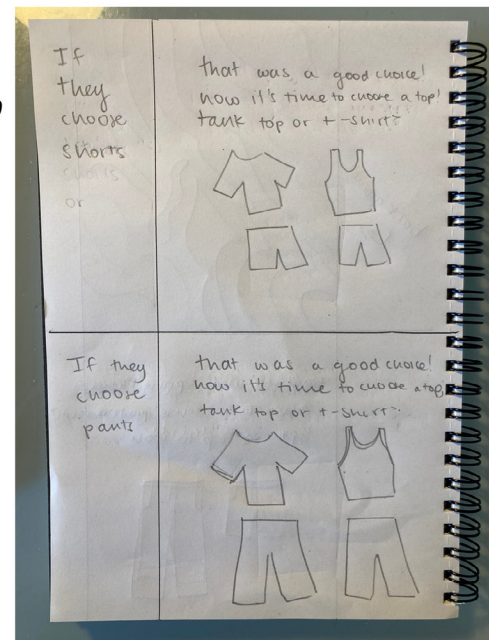

This was such a memorable scene, because when the film was made this type of technology was unfathomable.

- each page has a prompt (in haiku form) that has you choose an item of clothing
- once you choose one, it will link to another page to prompt you to choose the next piece

The user chooses the next item of lothing until the full outfit is unveiled.

I really wanted this simulation to look fun and colorful because it is like a game in a way. So I chose this pastel color pallete and created these flower graphics in the background to lend itself to the playful nature.

I cut out the clothing pieces in photoshop to create a cleaner look.

I added this animated feature where the clothing item is shown on the doll when you hover over the photo of the item.
